TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

[REPORTED FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Later from the North and Europe.

FREDERICKSBURG, Aug. 9.—Gentlemen from Washington on Wednesday says there are fifty thousand runaway negroes aronnd the city. Lincoln is enrolling negroes, free and slave, in Maryland. Since the battle of Gettysburg, twenty-one new batteries have been erected at Baltimore. Three thousand negroes are at work on the fortifications around the city. The people of Maryland are in despair on the subject, and the most unrelenting tyranny is exercised over the suspicious. New York, New Jersey, and the New England States are buying conscripts out of the army. The Governor of New Jersey refuses to let a single man go without his authority. The Governor of New York is preparing to test the constitutionality of the Conscript Act. A large number of troops have been sent to New York and New England to preserve order. Enrollment pretty quiet. There will be trouble when the men are called out. The people love the Union but refuse to fight for the negro. Workmen are leaving the shops because negroes are forced upon them. Twenty-five negro regiments are forming for the Federal army. The West is full of deserters. Many troops have been sent to arrest them and keep order. A terrific storm occured at Reading, Pa., and a vast amount of crops were destroyed. Emmettsburg was nearly consumed by fire. A crowd of visitors have driven Vallandigham from the Clifton House into the country.

The steamer Ruth was burnt on the night of the fourth instant. About thirty lives were lost. The cargo, embracing four hundred tons commissary stores, was destroyed; also several paymaster's money-boxes, containing two hundred and sixty thousand dollars in greenbacks.

The Lonnon Times regards the New York riot as little short of insurrection.

Articles in the journals of Washington, New York, etc., represent war with Great Britain as imminent.

At the late advance upon Jackson, Miss., letters were captured confirming the treason of Buchanan. His replies to letters of Jeff. Davis confirm Gen. Scott's accusations.

A serious collision took place, on the 1st, at Keokuk, between the Democrats and Unionists. One Democrat was killed and two others died of their wounds. The Democrats were driven from the place. They were subsequently reinforced to the number of fifteen hundred, and are hourly receiving fresh accessions, all represented as fully armed for the fight. The sheriff of Keokuk has gone to Davenport for military assistance. Simular disturbance at Columbus, Ohio.

Hong Kong newspapers give account of a terrible earthquake at Manilla on the 3d of June. Half the city was destroyed and 2,000 lives were lost.

In the House of Lords, on the 22d, Palmerston denounced the practice of the Federal Consuls in receiving bonds for cargoes of vessels, not intended for Confederates, and declared such a course in violation of international laws. Remonstrances have been made and the Federals promised to stop the proceedings, but it was feared they had not done so. He hoped that fresh remonstrance would prove more effectual.

From Charleston.

CHARLESTON, Aug. 10.—But little firing yesterday and this morning, but this evening the cannonade is quite severe on both sides. The greatest confidence prevails here.

From the West.

MOBILE, Aug. 10.—Persons lately out from Vicksburg report that Grant has gone to supercede Meade. General McPherson takes Grant's place. Gen. A. J. Smith takes command of the post at Vicksburg.

From Richmond.

RICHMOND, Aug. 10.—No news this morning. Weather immensely hot.

MILFORD, Aug. 10.—It seems confirmed that the Yankees are in some force in Stafford. Nothing new or reliable.

NORTH CAROLINA CHRISTAIN ADVOCATE.

NEW SERIES.

IT IS CONTEMPLATED TO RESUME THE PUBlication of the North-Carolina Christian Advocate at an early day, under the patronage of the North-Carolina Conference, and under the direction and ownership of a joint stock Company, composed of ministers and laymen, to secure its permanency.

It will be as its name imports, a CHRISTIAN Advocate.—It will sustain and defend the doctrines and discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and labor to advance Christ's Kingdom on earth, and to promote peace and good will among all men.

Besides its earnest, religious character, it shall be an advocate of the moral, educational and industrial progress of North Carolina—a welcome visitor to every family and to the camps of our brave soldiers, and a faithful chronicler of what may be useful and interesting, and of the current news.

All our traveling and local ministers and the stockholders of the Company, are specially requested to act as agents for the paper.

The old subscribers of the Advocate will be supplied with the new series, to the full amount due them at the time of its suspension, but as the mail books are not in the possession of the Editor, he must rely on the old subscribers themselves and the Agents, to furnish him with their names and post offices and the amount due them.

The Advocate will be well printed on good paper, and will contain an amount of reading matter equal to any paper in the State.

During the continuance of war prices, the subscription price will be $3 per annum, always in advance.

Agents who send us ten or more new subscribers and the Cash, will be entitled to a copy of the paper for one year. It is desirable that a large list be sent in at once.

Address WM. E. PELL, Editor.

THE PEARLY GATES AJAR.

BY FANNY FORRESTER.

I gazed down life's dark labyrinth,
A wildering maze to see,
Crossed o'er by many a tangled clue,
And wild as wild could be;
And as we gazed in doubt and dread,
An angel came to me.

I knew him for a heavenly guide—
I knew him even then,
Tho' meekly as a child he stood
Among the sons of men—
By his deep spirit lovelines,
I knew him even then.

And as I leaned my weary head
Upon his proferred breast,
And scaned the peril-haunted wild
From out my place of rest,
I wondered if the shining ones
Of Eden were more blest.

For there was light within my soul,
Light on my peaceful way,
And all around the blue above
The clustering starlight lay;
And easterly I saw upreared
The pearly gates of day.

So hand in hand we trod the wild,
My aged love and I—
His lifted wing all quivering
With tokens from the sky—
Strange my dull thoughts could not divine
'Twas lifted but to fly!

Again down life's dark labyrinth
I grope my way alone,
While wildly through the midnight sky
Black hurrying clouds are blown,
And thickly in my tangled path
The sharp thick thorns are sown.

Yet firm my foot, for well I know
The goal cannot be far,
And ever through the rifted clouds
Shines out one steady star;
For, when my guide went up, he left
The pearly gates ajar.

We are authorized to announce Captain JOSIAH TURNER, of Orange county, as a candidate for Congress in this, the 5th Congressional District, at the election to be held in November next. Aug 8-td

Duplin County May, 25, 1863.—EDITOR OF THE PROGRESS, RALEIGH, N. C.—No wish to add or stir party feelings, but as some friend has suggested sometime since the name of Wm. J. Houston, Esq., as a suitable person to be voted for for Congress in the district now represnted by the Hon. Owen R. Kenan, and as one man should have the same privileges as another, I suggest the name of THOMAS I. FAISON as a suitable person to represent the 3rd Congressional District at the ensuing election. No better or more loyal man than Thomas I Faison, no private man has done more for the Confederacy and the soldiers. Three of his sons have devoted their time and talents in the cause of freedom, and one of them has sealed it with his blood.

MANY VOTERS OF 3D CON. DIST. OF N. C.
May 28-tf

To the Voters of the Fifth Congressiona District.—The emergency calls for the purest and ablest men to serve the country in her Legislative Councils. The well known character of Captain JOSEPH J. DAVIS, of Franklin, for patriotism, integrity and wisdom, plainly indicates him as the fittest man in the District to represent us in the next Congress. Captain Davis is now leading his gallant company against the invaders of his country, and does not even dream of his friends entertaining the idea of voting for him for Congress or another civic position, at this time; but we are confident that he will shrink from no responsibility to which his fellow citizens may call him. Well known and universally respected as he is, Franklin County offers her noble son to the voters of the District in full confidence of his election, on account of his own unpretending merit, and for the good of the country. Patriots, your suffrages are asked for a wise and prudent statesman, and gallant soldier.

Dear Mrs. Reid: After having tried your Ointment for Rheumatism thoroughly, and having experienced great relief therefrom, I feel safe in saying that it is one of the greatest remedies of the age. Nothing can eradicate the disease, but it can be relieved to a certain extent, and your Ointment accomplishes all that any medicine can do. I have recommended it in numerous instances, and always with good has its use been attended. God bless you for your kindness in administering relief to

MILITARY NOTICES.

TO THE SOLDIERS OF THE CONFEDERATE STATES.

AFTER MORE THAN TWO YEARS OF A WAR-fare scarcely equalled in the number, magnitude, and fearful carnage of its battles; a warfare in which your courage and fortitude have illustrated your country, and attracted not only gratitude at home, but admiration abroad; your enemies continue a struggle in which our final triumph must be inevitable. Unduly elated with their recent successes, they imagine that temporary reverses can quell your spirit or shake your determination, and they are now gathering heavy masses for a general invasion in the vain hope that, by a desperate effort, success may at length be reached.

You know too well, my countrymen, what they mean by success. Their malignant rage aims at nothing less than the extermination of yourselves, your wives, and children. They seek to destroy what they cannot plunder. They propose as the spoils of victory, that your homes shall be partitioned among the wretches whose atrocious cruelties have stamped infamy on their Government. They design to incite servile insurrection and light the fires of incendiarism wherever they can reach your homes, and they debauch the inferior race, hitherto docile and contented, by promising indulgence of the vilest passions, as the price of treachery. Conscious of their inability to prevail by legitimate warfare, not daring to make peace lest they should be hurled from their seats of power, the men who now rule in Washington refuse even to confer on the subject of putting an end to outrages which disgrace our age, or to listen to a suggestion for conducting the war according to the usages of civilization.

Fellow-citizens, no alternative is left you but victory, or subjugation, slavery and the utter ruin of yourselves, your families and your country. The victory is within your reach. You need but stretch forth your hands to grasp it. For this end, all that is necessary is, that those who are called to the field by every motive that can move the human heart, should promptly repair to the post of duty, should stand by their comrades now in front of the foe, and thus so strengthen the armies of the Confederacy as to ensure success. The men now absent from their posts would, if present in the field, suffice to create numerical equality between our force and that of the invaders—and when with any approach of such equality, have we failed to be victorious? I believe that but few of those absent are actuated by unwillingness to serve their country; but that many have found it difficult to resist the temptation of a visit to their homes and the loved ones from whom they have been so long separated; that others have left for temporary attention to their affairs, with the intention of returning, and then have shrunk from the consequences of their violation of duty; that others, again, have left their posts from mere restlessness and desire of change, each quieting the upbraidings of his conscience, by persuading himself that his individual services could have no influence on the general result.

These and other causes (although far less disgraceful than the desire to avoid danger, or to escape from the sacrifices required by patriotism) are, nevertheless, grievous faults, and place the cause of our beloved country, and of everything we hold dear, in imminent peril. I repeat that the men who now owe duty to their country, who have been called out and have not yet reported for duty, or who have absented themselves from their posts, are sufficient in number, to secure us victory in the struggle now impending.

I call on you, then, my countrymen, to hasten to your camps, in obedience to the dictates of honor and duty, and summon those who have absented themselves without leave, or who have remained absent beyond the period allowed by their furloughs, to repair without delay to their respective commands, and I do hereby declare that I grant a general pardon and amnesty to all officers and men within the Confederacy, now absent without leave, who shall, with the least possible delay, return to their proper posts of duty; but no excuse will be received for any delay beyond twenty days after the first publication of this proclamation in the State in which the absentee may be at the date of the publication. This amnesty and pardon shall extend to all who have been accused, or who have been convicted and are undergoing sentence for absence without leave or desertion, excepting only those who have been twice convicted of desertion.

Finally, I conjure my countrywomen—the wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of the Confederacy—to use their all-powerful influence in aid of this call, to add one crowning sacrifice to those which their patriotism has so freely and constantly offered on their country's altar, and to take care that none who owe service in the field shall be sheltered at home from the disgrace of having deserted their duty to their families, to their country, and to their God.

(SEAL.) Given under my hand, and the Seal of the Confederate States, at Richmond, this 1st day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand, eight hundred and sixty-three.

JEFFERSON DAVIS.

By the President:
J. P. BENJAMIN, Sect'y of State.
Aug 5-20t

The papers throughout the Confederate States are requested to copy the above proclamation, at the earliest moment, and for twenty days thereafter, and send their bills to the Private Secretary of the President.

CONSCRIPT OFFICE,
CAMP HOLMES, Aug. 6, 1863.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 17.

IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE ABOVE PROCLAmation of amnesty and pardon by the President, an earnest invitation is extended to all persons absent without leave from the army, to report themselves at the Camp of Instruction immediately, to be forwarded to their regiments. All good citizens are entreated to use every means in their power to prevail upon persons of the class named to return to their duty. They will be well treated and past offences forgotten. Transportation will be furnished to their commands.

But it must be distinctly understood that after the expiration of the time set by the President, the most vigorous measures in the power of the government will be instituted for the arrest and punishment of all absent from their commands without leave. None need expect to evade longer the service which they justly owe to their country. Let them report at once to their militia officers to be sent to camp, or come in person without delay.

II. A Camp of Instruction will be opened at "Camp Vance," near Morganton, on the 10th of August. All persons subject to conscription in the 9th and 10th District will report to Capt. James C. McRae, Commanding Camp Vance.

3,700 BOXES OF THE SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS

HAVE BEEN ORDERED IN ONE DAY. WHEREever known their use continues. Without puffing, they have gained ground by their real value. More than five hundered persons are known to have been cured by these Pills.

This excellent family medicine is recommended by the proprietor as good only for diseases of the Liver. His correspondents say that they also cure Billious Rheumatism, Pneumonia, Chills and Fevers, Billious Fevers, Piles and Worms. They are a perfectly safe medicine.

Peter Vaden, Esq., of Dinwiddie county, Va., after describing remarkable cures in his family of Billious Rheumatism and Pleurisy, says: "My Doctor's bill has been heretofore from $175 to $200 per year. I have used them [these pills] for my family, which consists of eighteen white and colored, and have not called in a Doctor. This is a great saving. They certainly are the best family medicine ever discovered."

Rev. John W. Potter, of Greene county, North Carolina, had suffered twelve years from a diseased liver, which the physicians had not been able to cure. He says:

"I commenced taking the Hepatic Pills with no confidence in them. They acted like a charm on me. From that hour I have improved. I have persevered in their use until now, by God's blessing, I am well and hearty. I had a negro man who, as I believe, was saved from death by a dose of these Pills. My Doctor's bill was annually from $100 to $200, but I have had no use for a physician since."

The great rise in the price of ingredients and the heavy tax on these Pills, compel the proprietor to put them at their present prices or quit the manufacture. They are not more profitable to him than when he sold them at lower rates.

Price: $1:50 a box. For $15 a dozen boxes will be sent prepaid to any part of the Confederacy. Those who desire less than a dozen boxes must apply to the Druggists. Great reduction made to Druggists and merchants who pay by the gross. Cash must always accompany orders.

A Flagrant Outrage—Official Tyranny over the Press attempted.

By the last mail from the East we received two letters from Goldsboro. The one we shall copy entire and from the other we shall make an extract:

GENERAL HOSPITAL,
GOLDSBORO, N. C. Aug 8th, 1863.

EDITOR OF RALEIGH PROGRESS.—Sir: When I subscribed for three copies of your paper for the benefit and comfort of the sick and wounded soldiers at the Hospital I expected to renew it every three months as I do other papers for the same purpose, but as you have lately ignored the cause and country for which they are fighting, and for which North Carolina has spilled so much of her best blood, they are not willing now to read it, therefore I ask as a favor to send us no more of your papers, though my subscription is not quite expired. This I have determined on after consultation both with the Medical officers and intelligent soldiers of the Hospital.

In fact we find that your paper has ceased to interest the intelligent soldiers, while it can only encourage desertion with the weakminded and ignorant.

Respectfully, G. W. GRAVES,
Surgeon in Charge.

The second letter is from a citizen of Goldsboro, high in position, and a man who has served his country faithfully on the field of carnage. He says:

"Your course is approved by the masses. Continue to call for peace, until the heart of North Carolina is fully fired up."

Now, "G. W. Graves, Surgeon in charge," has charge of the General Hospital at Goldsboro, and probably never has and never will be near a battle-field, while the writer of the second letter, who says that our course is approved by the masses, has been near the flashing of the guns in more than one war.

And has it come to this, that "G. W. Graves, Surgeon in charge," is to assemble his ward masters—conscripts no doubt who are indebted to him for their position—and after consultation with them tell the soldiers that they are "weak-minded and ignorant" and must not read the Progress? Has the order gone out from Richmond that "Surgeons in charge" must use their efforts to suppress certain papers in North Carolina? Really this letter from "G. W. Graves, Surgeon in charge," would seem to indicate as much. What treason does "G. W. Graves, Surgeon in charge," find in the Progress? Does he not know that we have suffered more, risked more and lost more in this war than he ever has or ever will?—We tell him that the people and the soldiers will read the Progress, the conclusions and recommendations of his advisers to the contrary notwithstanding, for while it contends for the rights of the people and defends the common soldier in the ranks, it has manliness enough to rebuke official insolence and to denounce petty tyranny. We tell "G. W. Graves, Surgeon in charge," that the Daily Progress has the largest circulation of any daily paper in the State and that it is constantly increasing, that it circulates among the people—the honest masses, that it is not depependent on official patronage and government support for its existence, and that all the "Surgeons in charge" in the Confederacy, and all the other officers in the "peace departments" of the government, who cry war to the last man and last dollar, cannot suppress it.

We shall stand by the cause of the South and use every means we can to strengthen the hands of those who rule and govern the affairs of the government, but we are not the obedient tool of every upstart in office, and we shall insist on those wronged, weather-beaten veterans, who "G. W. Graves, Surgeon in charge," calls "weak-minded and ignorant," having their rights. We have stood by the soldiers and mean to stand by them—we have called on and urged deserters to return to duty, and "G. W. Graves, Surgeon in charge," knows it, and if he says that a single sentence has ever appeared in the Progress to induce men to desert he is guilty of intentional and malicious falsehood. No, we suspect that "G. W. Graves, Surgeon in charge," was one of the fire-eating, die-in-the-last-ditch kind, and that he has become offended at some of our wholesome rebukes to skulkers, extortioners, the owners of 20 niggers, &c., and has sought this very small device by which to avenge himself,—"G. W. Graves, Surgeon in charge," is not the only village practitioner that has had his head turned by metal buttons, gold lace and the appendage of "Surgeon in charge."

Remember, soldiers in the "General Hospital, Goldsboro'," "G. W. Graves, Surgeon in charge," calls you "weak-minded and ignorant," and wants to say what papers you shall read and what papers you shall not read. We shall continue to defend you, however, regardless of "G. W. Graves, Surgeon in charge," and his masters.

The papers sent to the General Hospital, Goldsboro', will be stopped when the time paid for is out and not before, and those soldiers who "G. W. Graves, Surgeon in charge," insults by telling them that they "weak-minded and ignorant," will be glad to read them if allowed by the "Surgeon in charge" to do so. We know, as well as the intelligent reader, that it is not the soldiers who object to the Progress, for they are almost unanimously with us, but it is "G. W. Graves, Surgeon in charge," whose office keeps him far removed from the battle-field and whose salary is probably more than he can realize by his genius and talents in peace times.

Adieu, "G. W. Graves, Surgeon in charge."

Letter from Lieut. Whiting.

The following letter from Lt. Whiting, has been received by his mother in this city, who has kindly permitted us to use it:

BALTIMORE, July 25th, 1863.

MY DEAR MOTHER:—I am now in Baltimore. My wounds are progressing favorably. Powell has been sick, but is now better. He has lost his right eye. The losses in my company as far as I know are: Captain killed, Lt. Norfleet wounded severely in lower belly, Orderly Green slightly wounded and a prisoner; his brother Erasmus killed; private Hansel Pool, killed, and privates Filkinton and George Partin, slightly wounded and prisoners. There are others killed but I only know those that were killed on the first day and those who fell where I did on the third day.

Lt. Col. Graves and Capt. Davis, of our regiment, were taken prisoners but not wounded. Major Crudup was severely wounded in breast and taken prisoner.

Trusting that God in his mercy may soon unite us I remain

Your affectionate son. G. M. WHITING.

We have just received further information in regard to two officers from Chapel Hill who have heretofore been reported by us wounded at Gettysburg and in the hands of the enemy.

A gentleman, now resident in Washington city and a friend and connection of Capt. E. G. Morrow, of the 28th N. C. Reg't, has written to the mother of this most excellent and gallant officer, that her son died of his wounds a few days after his capture and now lies buried by the side of two of his late companions in arms near Gettysburg. His eyes were tenderly closed and his body carefully interred by one who knew and loved him before this unnatural strife began.

A letter has been received by one of his parents from Lt. W. L. Battle of the 37th Regiment, in which he says his left arm was shattered by a ball just below the shoulder, and that three or four inches of the bone have been taken out. A note was kinkly appended to the letter by Lt. Battle's attending surgeon, who says he is doing well and unless something unforseen occurs, he will be able to leave the hospital at Gettysburg in a few weeks.

It may be a consolation to those who had friends or relations, left wounded in Pennsylvania, to know that these officers met with very kind treatment from the surgeons and nurses into whose hands they fell. We have reason to hope many others have fared as well.

Capt. Elliott at Work.

We are instructed to publish the following report, addressed to the Assistant General:

HEAD QUAR. 66TH REG'T N. C. TROOPS,
Murfreesboro', N. C., Aug. 6, 1863.

GENERAL:—I have the honor to report that Capt. Elliott, Co. E, 66th Reg't N. C. Troops, with thirty-two of his men, on Monday the 3d inst., attacked the Light House recently erected by the Yankees at the mouth of Pasquotank river, and although unsuccessful in their efforts to capture the armed men stationed there for its defence, did succeed in driving them off and in destroying the Light House. Capt. Elliott with his men embarked in five small boats, at the mouth of Flatty Creek, distant ten miles from the Light House, at day break, and proceeded as rapidly as possible in the direction of the Light House. He was discovered when three miles off, and the garrison, consisting of fourteen men, took to their boats and retreated with all possible speed in the direction of North River. Capt. Elliott pursued them up North River, but the enemy entered some one of the many little creeks making off from North River near its mouth and thereby escaped. He then returned to the Light House, stripped it of its contents, consisting chiefly of sperm oil, valued at twenty-five hundred dollars, and then destroyed the house.

It will be remembered that, soon after the fall of Roanoke Island, the enemy destroyed the Wodes Point Light House, at the mouth of Pasquotank River, but subsequently erected upon its ruins the one destroyed by Capt. Elliott.

Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon Capt. Elliott and the brave men of his command for the energy they are displaying in ridding the Albemarle region of the presence of the brutal Yankees.

I am General, very truly,
Your ob't servant,
J. W. HINTON, Col.,
Commanding 66th Reg't N. C. Troops.

To GEN. D. G. FOWLE,
Adjutant General N. C.,
Raleigh, N. C.

For the Progress.]

MR. EDITOR:—The following cure for love I clipped from a newspaper out West some years ago, and thinking perhaps, that many of your readers have never seen it, and who would like to avail themselves of the remedy, I therefore send it to you for republication:

CURE FOR LOVE.—Recommended to take twelve ounces of dislike, one pound of resolution, two ounces of the powder of experience, a large sprig of time, fourteen drachms of the quiet of dishonor, one quart of the cooling water of consideration. Set them over a gentle fire of love, sweeten it with the sugar of forgetfulness, skim it with the spoon of melancholy, put it to the bottom of your heart, cork it with the cork of a sound conscience, and there let it remain, and you will instantly find ease, and be restored to your right senses again.

These things are to be had of the Apothecary, at the house of understanding, next door to reason, in Prudent street, in the Parish of contentment.

Now, Mr. Editor, without any scruples about it, I wish to know if this house in Prudent street, in the Parish of contentment is not closed. If so then, if any person will in these times of war and high prices inform the writer, where the ingredients can be had, they will very much oblige. W. T. G.

New Hill, August 1863.

From the Mississippian.]

FROM MISSISSIPPI—LETTER FROM GUILBURTON.

MORTON STATION, Aug. 3, 1863.

For the past two weeks we have been luxuriating here in the piney woods with mornings oh! so hot that it is almost impossible for one to find any relief from the excessive heat or the irrepressible "red bugs" which render our situation still more uncomfortable and existence almost unendurable.

But this is not all. We have ascertained from personal observation that the waters of Strong (?) river, are not quite as pure as "the icicle which hung in Diana's Temple," but on the contrary, is filled with animalculæ that requires no microscope to detect their presence. Just think of raising a cup of water to your lips after the thirst has become intolerable and finding it almost the right temperature to administer ipecac with. But no matter, it is water after all, but Heavens! see the myriads of ill-shaped monsters with immense heads and great staring eyes and bodies sadly disproportioned that come waging their tiny tails and rolling their great round eyes up at you as if to say, "it's all right, old fellow; with your permission I'll go below." To which, you immoderately enter a solemn protest, and with a shudder throw cup and all aside and curse the day you saw Strong river.

Much has been said and written in regard to the desertions among the Mississippi troops, and I would to God that there had been less of it, although they undoubtedly thought that the gallant old State was lost forever, and that Gen. Johnson had delivered it up to them. But since they have found that the action of Gen. Johnston was all for the best, and the evacuation of Jackson was the only means of saving the only army left to defend the entire Department, and the occupation of Jackson, so far as the enemy was concerned, amounting to nothing, as they had already destroyed all that would avail them anything, and by leaving them there, he could preserve the little band that he had hastily gathered together and dispute the possession of the country not yet occupied by the vandal foe; now that the excitement of the movement is over, and cool, calm deliberation has taken the place of wild and fearful misgivings, they are returning to their commands, and the very men who lately were loud in their denunciations of Gen. Johnson, now applaud him for the wisdom and sagacity he has displayed in the matter, and I sincerely believe that in a few days all of the men who have gone home in dispair will return to their commands and remove the stain cast upon the gallant old State, and give no cause for the blush of shame to mantle the cheeks of the noble Mississippi troops in Virginia and Tennessee, when their conduct is spoken of.

I would gladly have evaded this matter, but it has already become a part of the history of the war, and it is useless to deny it.

The condition of the army at present is much better than at any time since we first marched towards ——, on the 1st day of July, and the universal gloom that for months has hung like a funeral pall over us, is gradually giving way to that bright hope that ever animates the true soldier, no matter if the clouds of misfortune are lowering o'er him. For good sound practical philosophy commend one to a good soldier who is never despondent, but always disposed to look on the bright side of everything.

We hear a report from Wirt Adams' cavalry scouts to the effect that Dick Taylor has defeated Banks near Donaldsonville, and captured six thousand prisoners, and has since been joined by Magruder with a force of —— thousand, and they are now planting the siege guns captured lately by Taylor at Thibadeaux, in position in the fine levee at Donaldsonville to stop the navigation below Vicksburg.

There is at present no indication of any movements until some emergency may arise. GUILBURTON.

We regret to learn from the Fayetteville Observer that Francis Fries, Esq., died at his residence in Salem on Saturday last, the 1st inst., aged nearly fifty-one years. The disease of which he died was an affection of the throat and lungs to which he had long been subject.

Mr. Fries was one of the most active, useful, intelligent and successful business men in the State, and whether as a member of the Legislature or a merchant or manufacturer at home, he stamped the impress of his own energy upon everything with which he became connected. We had known Mr. Fries for some years and learned to esteem him very highly.—Wil. Journ.

FROM MORRIS ISLAND—CAPTURE OF A YANKEE BOAT AND CREW.—The lull which has of late taken place in the progress of hostilities around us, continued with but slight interruption during yesterday. The enemy's land batteries were firing with their smaller mortars in the direction of Battery Wagner for a short time; but, as their shells generally fell short, it is supposed that their fire was intended mainly for our sharp shooters, who are posted a considerable distance in advance of our works, and who are believed to have caused great annoyance to the Yankee working parties. We heard of no casualties at Battery Wagner. At intervals yesterday and last night our mortars at Shell point were playing upon the enemy's position. There were but three of the Monitors in sight yesterday, and they were apparently receiving ammunition from small sailing vessels which lay alongside.

On Tuesday night, before the moon had risen, a little affair took place in Schooner Creek, between James and Morris Islands, resulting in the capture of a Yankee barge with its crew. For several nights it was known that the enemy had been posting some picket boats in the marsh near the hulk of the old steamer Monigault, for the purpose of observing our movements at Cumming's Point, and giving notice by rockets to their Morris Island batteries when to open fire on our transports. The military authorities having determined to capture or drive off these pickets of the enemy, an expedition was formed with that view. About 8½ o'clock on Monday night Captain Sellers, with a detachment of thirty men from the 25th S. C. V. (Eutaw) Regiment, left Fort Johnson in two boats and rowed into Schooner Creek. About the same time Captain Warley, of the Navy, with two boats, manned by marines from the Confederate States steamers Chicora and Palmetto State, also approached the position in which it had been correctly supposed that the Yankee boats would be found. Captain Sellers' men having left their boats, deployed as skirmishers, wading knee deep in the marsh. They soon encountered the enemy, who took to their boats (two in number) with all speed, and rowed rapidly off under a sharp fire from our men. One of the Yankee boats managed to escape, with the loss, it is believed, of several men; the other, a barge, was intercepted by Captain Warley's command, and surrendered. It contained Captain Payne, of the 100th New York Regiment, with a Sergeant and ten men. Two of the crew had been killed; the Yankee Captain and four others of the prisoners were wounded. Our only casualty was one man, B. Fenwick, of Orangeburg, a member of Captain Sellers' Company, killed.

The prisoners were brought to the city last evening. Among the spoils of the capture was a fine field glass belonging to General Gilmore.

GENERAL LEE'S CALL.—General Lee, says the Richmond Whig, is not the man to cry wolf when there is no necessity for it. On the contrary, so bold is he, so proud of his "poor ragamuffins," and so confident of their ability to accomplish whatever human nature can achieve, that he would be apt to trust too much to his army, however weakened it may be. We may be sure, then, that when he calls for men, he really needs them, and needs them right away.

He calls upon "all men to rejoin their respective regiments at once." He does more than that. He appeals to the people of the State to send him every man able to bear arms." There is no mistaking the meaning of this language, for Gen. Lee weighs every word before using it. We are to understand that he has good reasons, not for believing but for knowing, that the enemy will soon advance upon him in tremendous force—a force so greatly superior to his own, that in spite of the advantage of position, and of acting on the defensive, he is compelled to call for reinforcements.—Mercury.
